

The story of Pet Urnaments began with an idea I had a long time ago. Before I could act on it, however, I had to do my research and design something that met my own respectful sentiments. After that, the only question remaining was; were the traditions people embrace for honoring their deceased beloved pets ready for my new and respectful alternative? I believe they are.

From the moment we take them home, our pets grow dear to us. They enter our lives to become part of our everyday world. We, in turn, become part of theirs. They are the only family member who will never know any world but the one we provide for them.

Our pets come to rely on us for nourishment, safety and freedom. Love and time seal the bond.

As they grow older and begin moving slower we will tend to more of their everyday needs. We are their caretaker and will always do what is best for them. We preserve their dignity.

And when they leave us we honor them with a burial or cremation, preserving their memory in an urn. Today, there are many alternatives.

Pet Urnaments are the newest alternative; a dignified and respectful expression of love for your pet companion.
